Dear Parents,

The sun shone brightly on our Book parade on Friday and all the characters in all our special books were on show. The stars were all there, Wally was compering and Pirate Pete was capturing wayward children and despite the many chants of “walk the plank” the children stayed safe! Thank you to our wonderful parent community for so generously supporting our entire Book Week, for helping all the children to dress up and for attending our Book Parade. Please enjoy some of the photos below:

Trivia Night
Thank you to the fabulous PFA - Mish McGrory, Brig Warwick, Nicki Batogol, Janine Sheean and Melissa Larner for the most amazing night on Friday night in our MPC. The night was full of fun and games with some very entertaining highlights! Thank you also to Sarah Monahan for her great wrapping with Brig. Mish has included a list of thank yous to our very generous and kind Armadale families in her PFA section and I can only echo my thanks and gratitude to you all. I can’t wait to see the new grass and fence on Northcote Road after the September school holidays, as a direct result of your generosity.

Year 3/4 Camp

The Year 3 and 4 students are excited about the forthcoming camp to Camp Rumbug and I know of some students who have already packed their bags some weeks ago! The weather outlook is promising and I am sure the children will enjoy all the activities regardless. On behalf of the whole school community I extend our thanks to all the teachers who are attending and who will be looking after the children 24/7 whilst they are at camp:

Virginia Wallace, Rosanna Caruso, Mat Sweetlove (Camp Co-ordinator), Colleen Johnson, Steph McIlroy, Malcolm Dow, Peter Cracknell, Katie Wallman, Donna Brammer, Vita Vampatella, Brett Leyshan, Dan Thomas and Alex Robinson (student Teachers).

I would like to acknowledge the leadership of Mat Sweetlove as this year’s camp co-ordinator and thank Mat for all the additional time he has put into the organisation and administration of the camp. For any of the children not attending the camp, the school expects those children to attend school each day and they will be reallocated to another class.

School Uniform
The wearing of our school uniform is compulsory at Armadale Primary School and I expect to see children in fully attired uniform every day. The one-off casual windcheater is accepted with a note from home to explain why uniform isn’t being worn. Could all parents please ensure children come to school in correct uniform each day and any misplaced items can be found in the lost property bins in OOSH. Items can also be purchased through our second-hand uniform cupboard for a gold coin donation. May I also remind all our parents of female students that leggings and tights on their own are not school uniform and must only be worn underneath a dress, tunic or skirt. Thank you in advance of your co-operation in this matter.

Have a wonderful week everyone.

Book Week
Book Week has come and gone for another year, and what a great success it was. Many thanks to our Library Technician Brett Leyshan, who organised and ran all the Book Week activities this year. He did a fantastic job and I congratulate him on his great organisational skills. Of course we all enjoyed dressing up for the Book Parade and Rochelle and I enjoyed dressing up as electricians to go with this year’s Book Week theme of Get Connected with Reading. Many thanks to Martin Strangward from Living Electrics (father of Robert and William) for supplying us with the necessary costumes.

Premiers’ Reading Challenge
We are just about to wrap up the Premiers’ Reading Challenge for another year too. Many students have read the required number of books and now just need their parents to send a note or an email to their child’s class teacher confirming that the child has read all the books listed on the PRC website. Once this is done the class teacher will be able to verify the books and, as long as the total books are correct, the Challenge will have been successfully completed.

Working Bee – Saturday 6 September 9.00am-12.00pm
Don’t forget our second working bee for the year coming up on Saturday 6 September from 9.00am - 12 noon. It would be great to see as many people as possible helping on the day. If you can’t attend, we would really appreciate a payment in lieu. Please see page 4 for details.

Thank You Ray, Tonga and Martin
Our thanks and appreciation go to the following parents who have given their time voluntarily to help us around the school. Ray Skinner and Tonga Kelly have been busy constructing a mini kitchen outside the Year 1/2 area that all the junior school students can enjoy using at lunch and recess. Thanks also to Martin Strangward from Living Electrics (father of Robert and William) for doing some important electrical work around the school at no charge. We really appreciate being able to tap into the expertise of our parents and have them help us in these ways.

Landscape Master Plan
Another parent who we are deeply grateful to is Amy Sorger, (mother of Claire). Amy is a Landscape Designer and has provided her expertise and skills to create a fantastic Landscape Master Plan, something which the school has been wanting to have for many years. She presented to the Facilities Committee and in turn to School Council, and we have all been highly impressed at the quality of this plan and the value that it will provide to our school for many years to come. We are not wasting any time in beginning its implementation, as we will be digging some holes for the first of the trees on this plan at our upcoming working bee. These trees will be planted around the junior play equipment prior to the area receiving its new synthetic grass softfall surface over the September holidays, and one special tree, a pinoak, will be planted on Monday 8 September as we celebrate the 130th anniversary of the official opening of the school. The landscape master plan will be available for viewing in my office, once it is laminated.

Thanks again Amy, your work is very much appreciated at APS.

Bike Ed
Peter Cracknell and I ran the first of four Bike Ed sessions for a selected group of Year 4 students yesterday. It was a great success and the students are already showing greater levels of skill and confidence when using a bike. We look forward to further developing these over the next three sessions, and also to organising a bike excursion in term 4 with a couple of neighbouring schools who are also doing Bike Ed. Below are some pictures of the Bike Ed program in action.

Parents and Friends for Armadale (PFA)

Hi everyone

Please act on the following deadlines:

- Herb Drive – All monies MUST be returned to the office by tomorrow night
- Level 3/4 Cocktail Party – tomorrow night @ The Malvern Hotel from 7.30pm
- Father’s Day Stall – Volunteers to wrap from 12.30pm next Monday. Volunteers to sell all day next Tuesday from 9.00am. $5 per gift.

We coined 2015 as a ‘Back to the Future’ year for the PFA so let’s explore that a little this week.

Trivia Night last Friday

What can we say? A great end to last week, with lots of fun and funny antics, a bit of singing and dancing and lots of bidding...some even so excited they bid against themselves! A dream auction for anyone, however it was our wonderful Brett Graham who kept up with the riotous bidding on many a priceless auction item donated by our fantastic APS families.

We would like to both salute and thank the following families for their wonderful personal contributions, without which our Trivia Night could never have been the huge success it was:

The Filopoulos and Sedaris families, Brett Graham intrepid auctioneer, Pam Johnstone florist extraordinaire, the Batagol, Collins and Couper families, the Durack, the Hyde, the Larner and Maine families, the Portnoy, the Pegler, the Pellegrini and the Rickard families, the Sheean, the Theodoropoulos and Warwick families and of course the White family.

We’d like to thank Allira our Saturday pack up helper, OOSHC for forsaking the MPC all day Friday and our most polite and eager level 5 students - the best table and chair set-up helpers ever experienced. Please be assured this was in free time and not lesson time (bit strict on that stuff). We thank all our wonderful teachers who gave great competition but, like the rest of us, sadly lost to the Jedis once again. It seems the force is always with those crafty Star Wars alumni!

While final numbers are still to be confirmed we estimate a huge $12-$13K pure profit from the evening.

Looking to the future now, we can confirm that all monies will go toward the new sponge turf and new fence which means part of our wish list for the year will be realised. Even better is the fact that these works will be undertaken in the September holidays so you can see and enjoy the fruits of your labour.

Finally, we’d like to thank each and every one of you. You, our parents for your incredible generosity in sharing a night and some precious savings with us and your kids for letting you have a great night out together.

I sincerely hope I have acknowledged all our generous gifter however if I have overlooked you I not only apologise but also blame it on our stupid modem which has gone kaput and therefore left me under time pressure to submit via a wi-fi window which keeps timing out on me...heard any of this before? “He/she made me do it?” Easier to blame the modem I say...but I’m personally sorry all the same.

Level 3/4 Cocktail Party – Tomorrow Night

Lots of hands up at assembly today claiming you’re at The Malvern Hotel tomorrow so get your skates on! Rsvp and pay to the office or your class rep. now!

Lastly, be aware but not alarmed and blitz those nits!

Look out, all the kids at assembly seem to know the colour of the five dollar note so reinforce their math learnings by slipping them one or two next Tuesday so they can jump to the stall.

Please see the special Father’s Day Stall section for further details on page 7 regarding volunteers for both Monday and Tuesday.

The Lone Defender

He’s the lone defender,
Always guarding at the goals.
He never gets to do his job,
His life is full of holes.

The other players on his team,
Always hog the ball.
The teams that he goes up against,
Just stay at their own goal.

He’s the lone defender,
His job’s not down his lane.
But one thing that he’ll never do,
He never will complain.
