Dear Parents,

We have had an incredibly busy time since last week with our Year 3/4 students enjoying a fantastic camp at camp Arrabri, our Year 5/6 students participated in regional debating competition, our working Bee on Saturday, on Tuesday, selected Year 5 students represented Armadale in the Italian performing Arts competition, today our Green Team participated in the Port Phillip Sustainable Schools Festival and tomorrow, our 5/6 students will participate in a Soccer Gala Day. Next week our whole school is looking forward to celebrating Italian Day on Thursday 17th September and there is no prize for guessing the children’s highlight: the Gelati Van at lunchtime. The staff are also going to be spoilt with a lunch from La Lucciola! (Tim and Pina Martellis’s restaurant).

A reminder to our community that we will still have our normal Wednesday morning assembly on the 16th September, Thursday 17th is Italian Day and Friday 18th is the final day of Term 3 and the children will all be dismissed at 2.30pm from our final assembly. All the awards will be presented next Wednesday morning as normal and our Friday afternoon assembly which commences at 1.30pm, is specifically for farewells.

The success our students experience whether it is at a camp or in an extra – curricular activity is entirely due to my staff. I was once asked why do I thank my staff so much and the answer is simple, they go beyond the call of duty. They are only renumerated for 7.6 hours per day and you would be well aware that they commit to far more than that.

The staff at camp included Stephanie Eden –McIlroy (Co-ordinator) Colleen Johnson (Assistant Co-ordinator) Malcolm Dow; Peter Cracknell; Kate Pilgrim; Virginia Wallace; Donna Brammer, Rosa Salemme, Jane Hutchins, Tully and Brooke (student teachers)

Thank you to Gillian Brown for all her work with the Debating Team and Vita and Lisa for everything they have done for the Italian Performing Arts Festival and the lead up to Italian Day. To Malcolm Dow for all the work with the Working Bee, which was a huge success and for the Green team’s movie which was presented at the Port Phillip Sustainability Festival today. For any parent who saw it at yesterday’s assembly you would agree that the students have done a terrific job.

To our fabulous PFA Presidents, Sarah and Caz who fired up the barbie early on Saturday morning to ensure that all the families were very well fed. Sarah and Caz were well supported by Jane Portnoy, Sarah Barlow, Jo, Bronte Neyland, Arabella Tremlett and Mel Fusco. Thank you especially to all the parents who came on Saturday and gave up their morning. I was also thrilled to see so many of our children there as well who helped to make the grounds look fabulous.
Prahran Secondary School Update

David Portnoy and I will be attending a meeting which I hope will provide an update on the status of the Prahran Secondary School. I will certainly inform our community about what we learn from this meeting in next week’s newsletter.

Thank you Pierro Pellegrini! (father of Sofia and Amelia)

Pierro kindly donated a 50 inch flat screen to our school yesterday and we haven’t yet decided where it should go. In any case we are incredibly appreciative Pierro and thank you for once again thinking of our school.

Roof restoration on our Infant Building

Our Infant Building’s roof will be restored over the holidays and once again the building will be cordoned off as there will be a big boom operating and scaffolding erected all around the outside. All of the children attending the Holiday program will only be able to enter and exit through the Densham Road gates. Apologies in advance to our Northcote Road neighbours because due to the height of our building there will be disruption to the power supply on Thursday 1st October.

Welcome Meghan Baker

Maggie Brown in our office is currently enjoying some leave and is travelling through Europe. We are very grateful to Meghan to be able to join our office team and she has stepped in seamlessly. Please pop in and say hello on your way through.

Prep Enrolments have now closed for 2016

We have almost reached our capacity for Prep enrolments for 2016 and it looks like we will be running 4 classes for next year in Prep. The school is still determining our grade structures for next year and this is entirely dependent on the number of students at each year level. Consequently it would be appreciated if parents could please advise the school of any students who are in prep to Yr 5 and will be leaving APS at the end of this year.

Have a wonderful week everyone

SPELLING – A WORLD OF DISCOVERY

Last week we introduced the 5 major spelling rules. This week’s spelling focus was to uncover the mysteries surrounding one of the 5 major spelling rules in the English language. Just to recap, many spelling discoveries are made if we attend to the number of syllables, location of the sound(s) and the type of vowel (i.e. whether it is a long or short vowel). Another spelling tip is to uncover patterns that can explain how we would USUALLY represent a sound(s).

Did you find out when to double the medial consonant? Use these words to help with your discoveries: sudden; tennis; mitten; pollen; muffin.

This rule is also referred to as the Rabbit Rule. In a two syllable base word with one medial consonant sound after a short vowel, the medial consonant is doubled. The three checkpoints for this rule are:

- two syllables
- one medial consonant sound
- short vowel in the first consonant

If all checkpoints are present then the medial consonant is doubled. If any checkpoint is missing, then the medial consonant is NOT doubled.

The following website can be a fun way to explore spelling rules further:

http://www.bbc.co.uk/schools/spellits/activities_y6/activity1.shtml

MATHEMATICS – A SUBJECT FOR LEARNING NOT FOR PERFORMING

Maths, just like spelling, is about problem solving and looking for patterns. Current research emphasises the significance in promoting a growth mindset. This type of mindset is imperative to the attitude we all develop toward learning. What I found significant is the notion that Mathematics needs to be viewed as a subject for learning and not as a subject for performing. As we move toward this notion then we will see major changes in our community attitudes towards mathematical learning. In this current year, the Armadale community, consisting of parents, teachers and students have all been involved in developing our pedagogy in order to maximise the learning potential of all our children. Gathering evidence has been integral to this process. Such evidence has been a driving force in determining what we (the APS community) believe to be the characteristics of a great maths learner. As teachers, we have been enlightened by our data analysis. A dominant characteristic that has emerged from our evidence is a learner’s ability to solve a problem in various ways.

We have been exploring this notion with our children:

The emphasis of the task is to determine the extent of one’s mathematical understandings. Providing a simple answer to the problem does not provide an insight into the thought processes used to solve the problem. Nor does it provide feedback to the learner. In fact the only feedback it does offer the learner is that the answer is correct or incorrect. Hence this type of feedback can impact on the development of a learner’s attitude. Incorrect answers contribute to the development of an attitude, “I am not good at maths” and correct answers promote an attitude of developing a fear of failure and restricting the amount of learning because learning from one’s mistakes is not part of this child’s expectations. Acknowledging the process is far more powerful for learning.

Working Bee

What a great turnout we had at our spring Working Bee on Saturday, especially given the cold and drizzly start to the morning. I’m sure that the Father’s Day Sausage Sizzle attracted a few more dads out of their cozy homes and once they were well fed, they were ready for action. We had over 50 attending, which was wonderful, and that allowed us to complete all of the tasks on our list, as well as a few extra jobs that parents had the initiative to complete. All in all the grounds look greatly improved and ready for the final term of school. There were a number of families who couldn’t attend and they made a donation to the school in lieu of their attendance. This money helped to pay for some of our supplies that were needed for the work. If you weren’t able to attend we would still greatly appreciate a donation (suggested $30). Thank you to everyone who contributed in their own way, and thanks also to the PFA and helpers for providing the very welcome BBQ for Dads.

Year 3/4 Camp

Prior to the Working Bee I was lucky enough to be asked to attend the Year 3/4 camp to Arrabri in East Warburton. It was a fantastic experience and the children loved every minute of it. It is amazing how much you can pack into three days. Many thanks to all of the teachers and staff who attended and worked around the clock to make the camp such a great success. Anyone who believes teachers work short hours obviously doesn’t work closely with a teacher. Special thanks to Stephanie Eden-McIlroy for her fantastic work organising and planning of the camp, very ably assisted by Colleen Johnson.

Class Splitting

Parents may have noticed some children being split into other classes when their teacher has been away this week and last week. The reason for this is budgetary. All schools are allocated an amount of money for the employment of Relief Teachers, and as is the case with most of the funding the Education Department passes on to schools, it is woefully inadequate to cover our needs. We are reluctant to use too much of our locally raised funds to top up this amount, so we keep to a strict budget per term and when this money has been used up, we need to split classes for the remainder of the term. We will start next Term with a new allocation for that term and we are hoping that it will be enough to last us for the whole term.

Premiers’ Reading Challenge (Years 1-6)

We are drawing very close to the end of the Premiers’ Reading Challenge (it finishes on Monday 14th September). Hopefully your child has read enough books to meet the challenge. If they have then they should automatically achieve the challenge. Could you please check over the next few days to make sure your child has read enough books to meet the challenge. I have just received information from the PRC organisers that we no longer require confirmation letters from the parents before verifying the books. We will trust all of our students that they have read the books that they have recorded on the PRC website. If you do not wish your child’s name to be published in the newspaper when the final results come out in Term 4 please let me know ASAP.

Special Book Display

The year six students have written and illustrated books for their Prep buddies which we read together during Book Week. These are now on display in the library, so all parents and students can read them before the Prep students take them home. Please respect the hard work and effort that has been put into producing these books, by treating them gently and with care. Enjoy reading and looking at the great illustrations!

Calling for volunteers – we need your help with Student Banking!

Our students really enjoy participating in the Commonwealth Bank School Banking program and to keep this program running we need your help.

The program requires volunteers to help facilitate the banking and distribution of School Banking rewards. This only takes a small amount of your time one day a week and the Commonwealth Bank will provide support in how to run the program. Your help with the program will greatly benefit students as they develop vital saving skills and also help our school with fundraising. Currently, School Banking day is Tuesday.

- Quality lessons
- Low student / teacher ratios
- Well trained staff
- Attention to detail ensures your children get the care and attention they deserve
- Adult teaching and fitness squads

According to SafeKids Worldwide, more than half of all drownings for ages 6 and over occur in open water situations. Why? One reason is that basic swimming skills are not enough. Children must learn strokes and become advanced swimmers as soon as they are capable. Improve swimming skills not only for safety, but also for the lifelong health and fitness benefits.

Family Fun And Fitness

Little Athletics is a uniquely Australian modified athletics program for children from 5 to 15 years. As the name suggests, it is based upon the sport of athletics (track and field). There is a wide range of events from running, jumping, throwing and walking and events are modified to suit the age, developmental stage and ability of the children. Little Athletics promotes that it is important to "Be your Best". The emphasis is on fun, participation, performance, technique and getting involved with your family in physical and healthy activity. The motto of Little Athletics is 'Family, Fun and Fitness'.

Why not contact your local Centre and pop down for one of their “Come and Try” sessions.
